The Aquanaut Longbow; smart with pretty looks sounds like.....pretty smart!

Aquanaut Longbow AC

Aquanaut Longbow AC- R (raised cockpit)

Aquanaut Longbow AC -R H (hardtop)

Deck with raised cockpit;

After the Andante Topcockpit a new kid on the block; the Longbow Raised cockpit.

How innovative the normal Longbow AC, the R version, the (R) aised cockpit) will become the gamechanger for less level differences and still providing all the benifits of great AC outside steering with as always panoramic view.

Just hand in some standing headroom below (this only on starboard next tot the island bed) and look how a huge decklounge/dining area is created for up to 8 adults, provided; with deckgrill and sink! A extra high quardrail with dodgers and the bridgedeck with windscreen protects you from wind, while giving you so much more view than the OC/normal aftcockpit concepts.

From the swimming platform a entrance is made to the cockpit on both porthand and starboard. The cockpitfloor is placed on the same height as the side decks so in a few steps you also find yourself down in the deckhouse/salon.

Hardtop

The AC version (with or without the raised cockpit option) is available in hardtop instead of fabric/cloth. This factual makes for a extended boating season a real wheelhouse with four seats. This while you still have the posibility of feeling wind in your hair, because of removable lightweight panels which of course can be put away and stalled very easy.

Walkable rooftops

Both superstructure tops are easy to walk on; flat and anti-slip for safe cleaning and sunbath!

Hull

With wide powerfull sections in the front and aft, the overall beam is maximized for smaller marina's. No exaggerated overall beam; vertical stem, sprayrail and maximum waterline lenght means real value for money; space & speed.

On big trips or beeing quicker in the harbour with incoming bad weather and wishing to cruise on double hullspeed; there is this real affordable option in aluminium with powerfull and silent Volvo D4 300 pk single installation, of course equipped with double fuel-filters

Interior

The interior features 3 cabins with lots of storage, 2 heads and up to 2 separate showers. Master bedroom and guestcabins are light and bright with lots of opening portholes. All bunks are between 1.50 and 1.70 wide and standing headroom throughout the vessel is around 2 meters.

The bright deckhouse with large windows is split leveled for maximum use of space and makes it difficult to understand that she is a 40 feet yacht. The split level separates the 'chef the cuisine' just enough; the large galley is still situated in the socialising area. Plenty comfortable seats on opposite porthand offers good view over the decks.

A lazaretto in the aft for washing machine, equipment and bicycles makes a great cruiser.

The used materials for her stylish interior are durable and factual free of maintenance. Sufficient ventilation and top acoustical & thermic isolation with double glass goes without saying on the both sporty and comfortable
